ENA Presents:

WILD THINGS
March 15, 2012
Dare To Go There

The Loma Prieta Chapter of the Emergency Nurses Association invites you to attend our annual Educational Update. This year the focus is wildthings. Come take a walk on the Wildside... Dare to go there!

Please join us at Regional Medical Center of San Jose in the Peppertree Rooms on March 15, 2012.

Course objectives are to enhance the learner's understanding of treatments related to envenimation, improving the pedi experience in the ED, caring for patient's with a pacemaker, prevention ideas related to the elder patient, caring for the psych patient in the ED and an overview of disaster responses and what we have learned.

The course is designed for all disciplines and clinicians involved in emergency and critical care; including nurses, physicians, pre-hospital personnel and students.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

Credits approved for the California BRN (# CEP 12700) & Prehospital Providers for a total of 6.5 Continuing Education Units.
